2023 Philanthropists of the Year

Bloomington-Normal: Janice Meadows

Janice (Jan) Meadows of Bloomington exemplifies the spirit of philanthropy through her leadership and involvement in numerous community programs and organizations supporting students, families and educators in Bloomington-Normal.

For the past 11 years, Jan has chaired the Back 2 School Alliance, which is a coalition of groups that annually provides more than 4,000 backpacks with school supplies to low-income families in Unit 5 and District 87 schools. She coordinates the year-round collection of funds and school supplies, culminating in the Back 2 School Party where the backpacks are distributed and local agencies are present to provide information and assistance to families. Jan's efforts with Back 2 School Alliance also provide opportunities for the high school students at Eugene Field School.

Jan retired in 2011 from Unit 5 Schools, after 35 years in the district – 20 years as a behavior specialist at Colene Hoose Elementary School and 15 years as a first-grade teacher at Glenn Elementary School. For 20 years, she also taught night courses at Illinois State University, retiring in 2021. Jan continues to mentor student teachers and honors students from ISU.

For the last 10 years, Jan has also been involved with the Promise Council, an independent school support program. She currently serves as chair for two Promise Councils and is on the board of two other councils. In addition, Jan created Promise Shoes, a shoe bank of new and gently used shoes for students at Unit 5 and District 87 schools.

She created a 10-week course called WOW to develop leadership skills and confidence in elementary school-aged girls. Jan wrote the curriculum, orientation and training sessions, recruited leaders to work with the girls and wrote a grant to cover costs. She also serves on the Jill Hartke Better to Give Than to Receive Holiday Program, which provides clothing, toys and household items to 150 Unit 5 families.

After serving on the executive committee of the Unit 5 Education Association for many years, Jan continues to serve as vice president for IEA Retired Teachers. She collaborated with Camille Taylor to bring Not In Our School programming to Unit 5 students, volunteers at McLean County Museum of History's Cemetery Walk, and is a member of the philanthropic group 100 Women for Good. She taught pre-school religion classes at St. Patrick Church of Merna and Holy Trinity Church.

In all her volunteer work, Jan uses a network of community helpers who are willing to do whatever necessary to fill immediate and long-term needs of students.

She is married to Joe Luber, who supports Jan in all her endeavors. They have three children and five grandchildren.

Outside Twin Cities: Kevin Jones

Kevin Jones of Mackinaw exemplifies the spirit of philanthropy through his leadership and involvement in providing forums for people to express their feelings and truly hear one another throughout Central Illinois.

Kevin has facilitated Listening Circles, a restorative justice practice, to provide people an opportunity to speak and listen to each other in an atmosphere of safety, respect and equality. He facilitates Listening Circles in communities, workplaces, schools, nonprofit organizations, neighborhoods, universities and families. Since 2015, he has done more than 2,500 trainings, most recently after George Floyd's murder, after the 2020 presidential election and attacks on the Asian American Pacific Islander community related to the pandemic.

Kevin's work with restorative justice is a culmination of his 35-year career serving children and families through such agencies such as The Baby Fold, the Children's Foundation, the Department of Children and Family Services and the Regional Office of Education.

Training, coaching and educating at schools, agencies and businesses across the country in restorative practices is Kevin's passion. He has facilitated several restorative practices trainings for Illinois State University, Bloomington Police Department, Carle BroMenn Medical Center, Western Avenue Community Center, Boys and Girls Club of Bloomington-Normal and several churches in McLean County.

He earned a master's degree in Restorative Practices through the International Institute of Restorative Practices in 2017. Kevin serves on the executive board for Project Oz.

According to his nominator, Kevin understands that providing a positive way for people to heal from trauma can ultimately contribute to creating a more peaceful world. His vision and ability to get others involved makes him a true philanthropist.

Kevin and his wife, Kim, have one son, one daughter and one grandson.

How IPCF Works With Donors

IPCF connects people who care with causes that matter by offering philanthropic leadership, organization and grant-making for the long-term enrichment of our community.

1 DONORS

Individuals, families or organizations give through the Community Foundation to achieve their charitable goals and leave a personal legacy.

2 GIVE ALL TYPES OF ASSETS

Donors can give cash, appreciated securities, retirement assets, real estate or other assets. The donor receives the maximum charitable and tax benefits for their contributions to IPCF.

3 TO CREATE THEIR OWN FUND

Donors create their own fund. They recommend grants from their fund and choose who will advise their fund when they are no longer able.

4 WHICH IS CAREFULLY INVESTED

IPCF provides high-quality stewardship of funds, which are pooled for investment purposes. This enables less expensive access to high quality investment management.

5 BY THE COMMUNITY FOUNDATION

Illinois Prairie Community Foundation is a 501(c)3 public charity and is in full compliance with the National Standards developed by the Council on Foundations.

6 TO ALLOW FOR GRANTS IN PERPETUITY

Donors retain the privilege of recommending grants for their funds to nonprofits, religious organizations, educational institutions and government entities.
